Results indicate higher explanations of variance are largely attributed to women having

Stranger Danger: Explaining Women's Fear of Crime

What is the fear of crime? We can define fear as an emotional reaction characterized by a sense of danger and anxiety. We restrict our definition to the sense of danger and anxiety produced by the threat of physical harm. Furthermore, to constitute fear of crime, the fear must be elicited by perceived cues in the environment that relate to some aspect of crime for the person. By linking fear ...
